

I jumped for joy when I found I could eat supper, read the paper, talk to my wife and children, sleep, etc. without being annoyed by tele-marketers. My feelings are that I will decide what I need to donate/buy. Not someone who is trying to push it on me.

If the no-call rule is repealed, my only option is to remove my land phone line and go strictly cellular.